

Editorial Office of International Journal of Ophthalmology

License Agreement

Editorial Office of International Journal of Ophthalmology:

According to the publication notice, our manuscript titled “ _____ ” has been accepted for publication in the Volume __, Number __ of International Journal of Ophthalmology (IJO) English edition after the peer-review and revision.

This License Agreement signed in accordance with the Copyright Law of the People's Republic of China transfers the copyright of the manuscript to the Editorial Office of IJO English edition, which includes the following aspects:

1 All the authors agree that once the manuscript is employed by IJO, the author agrees to transfer the copyright, including but not limited to the copy right, distribution right, information network dissemination right, performance right, translation right, compilation right, adaptation right and other rights of the contribution to IJO within the copyright protection period. IJO has the right:

- a) copy, distribute, and disseminate the work in various known or possible forms, formats, and media (including but not limited to paper, CD, disk, network, etc.) including but not limited to the following ways;
- b) translation, adaptation, compilation of the work, and the use of charts, abstracts or any part of the work to derive other works
- c) sublicense to a third party for use.

2 Authors will transfer copyright to IJO Press but will have the right to share their article in the same way permitted to third parties under the relevant user license, along with certain scholarly usage rights. The authors are allowed to use and reuse the articles under the same license CC-BY-NC-ND as the third parties, that means the articles can be used by authors for all non-commercial purposes, but they may not distribute the modified material if they remix, transform, or build upon the material. The authors shall give marks on the detailed information including the page, issue volume of the manuscript published in IJO when the paper is compiled and published used for lecturing and communication in the authors' department or personal wittings. If there are commercial activities like domestic and foreign or individuals coping, translating or publishing the papers, they should obtain the written consent from the IJO English edition.

The author should take the initiative to inform Editorial Office the IJO English edition and provide the relevant certificate (copy) once the papers or the related research projects receive awards or achieve a certain economic or social benefit.

3 We are committed to the independently gained original results of the paper with independent intellectual property rights and no plagiarism, and that the related content has never been published in any form of word or language both at home and abroad, we shall not submit the paper, in any kind of language, to any other publisher once the paper is published, with no multiple submissions, no conflict or dispute of signature among the authors. In case of copyright dispute, the author should take the responsibility; as for the increase, decrease or change of the authors, an autograph letter of the corresponding author is needed.

4 We agree to have our manuscript published in the column _____.

5 We agree that in accordance with the regulation of IJO English edition, the reviewer fee is free and we get the relevant journal for free, which compensate for author remuneration.

6 This agreement shall come into force as of the date of signature. If the author submits a scanned copy of the agreement, the scanned copy is deemed to have the same legal effect as the original copy. All authors agree with the above terms, and take the following order of authors' signature as evidence:

1 Name:	Signature:	Date:
2 Name:	Signature:	Date:
3 Name:	Signature:	Date:
4 Name:	Signature:	Date:
5 Name:	Signature:	Date:
6 Name:	Signature:	Date:
7 Name:	Signature:	Date:
8 Name:	Signature:	Date:
9 Name:	Signature:	Date:
10 Name:	Signature:	Date: